U.S. AGREES ON NEW P.O.W. PLAN

GOV Approves Cabinet Chiefs

Overwhelming O.K. In Senate Seen For Dulles, McKay, Wilson

WASHINGTON (INS)—President-elect Eisenhower's selection of John Foster Dulles to be his secretary of state won general approval in Washington Thursday and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), predicted Dulles will "clean house."

The choice of General Motors President Charles E. Wilson to be defense secretary and Oregon Gov. Gordon McKay as interior secretary likewise were welcomed by Republican legislators.

Indications are that all three of the cabinet members selected by Ike will be confirmed overwhelmingly by the Senate in January when their nominations are formally submitted.

McCarthy, whose charges of Communism in the State Department touched off a sweeping inquiry two years ago, called Dulles "a good American" and said he expected him to "clean house" in the State Department and have an about-face on foreign policy.

Selection of the first three out of nine members in the Eisenhower cabinet was announced in a brief statement at the President-elect's New York headquarters following conferences by Ike with Dulles, other Republican leaders and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

James G. Haggerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, made the announcement in a brief statement which said that the President-elect will send the nominations of the three men to the Senate after his inauguration, on Jan. 20.

All three appointees immediately announced acceptance of the posts.

Peace Treaty

Dulles, who is 64, is generally regarded as the architect of the Japanese Peace Treaty and has long been a bi-partisan foreign policy adviser. He has been one of Ike's closest aides on foreign policy matters and wrote the foreign policy plank in the GOP platform.

"General Eisenhower has asked me to be his secretary of state subject to Senate confirmation and I have accepted, General Eisenhower is a great and purposeful leader. His desire for our nation is a just and durable peace. I shall gladly serve in that cause to the best of my ability," he said.

Wilson, the 62-year-old president of GM, said that "in the present state of world affairs such a call to duty could not be turned aside by any citizen."

State Senator

Gov. McKay, 59, a former auto sales executive, formerly was mayor of Salem and Oregon state senator for four terms before becoming governor in January, 1949. A veteran of World Wars I and II, McKay holds the Purple Heart. He accepted his appointment from Salem, Ore.

Wilson's selection left Lodge, previously considered for the defense post, as likely to be named an assistant to Eisenhower with trouble-shooting duties. Such a post is held in the Truman administration by John R. Steelman.

At the same time, there were other reports that Eisenhower will name Virginia Democratic Sen. Harry F. Byrd as his treasurer secretary.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) called the three appointments "outstanding and excellent" and said "they

Accountants Of NREA Elect New Committee

The Nebraska Rural Electric Association Accountants Thursday elected two new and one hold-over member to the accountants committee prior to a banquet meeting at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Newly-elected were George Backe, Cuming Rural Public Power District and Carl Erickson Howard-Greeley Public Power District. Miss Frances Deen, Midwest Electric Membership Corp., continues as committee chairman for another year.

Business meetings, panel discussions and addresses highlighted the second of a three-day meeting. Jack Tarr, certified public accountant, spoke on materials and supplies to open the day's business.

Other speakers included Robert Pickel, C. O. Solum, and Louis A. Kirkbride.

Friday's closing session features a report by J. H. Imig and Fred Ramocki on "Preparing for a CPA Audit" at 10 a.m. A general discussion by REA personnel follows at 10:30 a.m.

Someone's Pet Loses Life To Hit-Run Driver

An unknown pet, a floppy-eared, silky black Cocker Spaniel, is also now, put to rest by the Humane Society Thursday night.

Eagerly seeking new sights, the unidentified adventurer bounded across the crosswalk at 10th and D.

No witness heard the thud or the squeals—except one—and he, the driver of the car, drove on.

Honking horns and traffic congestion sent a motorcycle officer flying to the scene, not knowing what was causing the trouble.

There he found a passing motorist had blocked traffic with his car protecting the limp black form.

No. "842"—accident with injury—was filed at headquarters by the officer. But no words will be needed for the home with a vacant place, Friday morning.

The appointment of McKay came somewhat as a surprise. He had been mentioned the last of several possible selections, among them Governor Dan Thornton of Colorado, who was believed to have had the inside track; Governor Arthur Langley of Washington state. The selection of Gov. McKay does not preclude Peterson from consideration for some other fat plum although it does minimize his chances for a cabinet post.

McKay Naming Halts Talk Of Peterson Getting Interior Post

U.N. Harmony Shaping In Effort To End Korea Truce Deadlock

Way To Peace May Be Clear Says Acheson

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—The United States in a dramatic move, apparently inspired by President-elect Eisenhower, late Thursday suddenly agreed with Great Britain on a new plan to break the Korean prisoner deadlock and end the war.

The U. S. decision to drop its previous adamant stand against budging from the UN's "last-word" proposal to the Communists was revealed by a spokesman for the U. S. Delegation.

The new U. S. stand is expected to be made official Monday. Secretary of State Dean Acheson announced he will make a special address to the World Assembly and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden cancelled plans to return to England in order to hear him.

The U. S. shift in position was touched off by Eden's announcement before the U. N. Political Committee that India's recent compromise resolution may clear the way to peace in Korea.

Shortly after Eden completed his address, the U. S. spokesman said:

"The divergence among the United States and the other Western powers has been healed. Eden's speech was helpful and constructive. It contained ideas about revision of the Indian plan which we want to examine. On the basis of his approach, it is now possible to move toward complete agreement on the issue."

The Indian plan submitted by Delegate Krishna Menon is long, involved and termed vague in some parts.

Eden sought to dispel U. S. fears that new deadlocks and disagreements would result over the disposal of prisoners by declaring that the India resolution covers the four basic principles insisted upon by the United States and Britain. He cited these principles as follows:

1. All prisoners have the right to be released.

2. They have the right to be speedily repatriated.

3. It is the duty of the detaining side to provide transport facilities for the return of prisoners.

4. The detaining side has no right to use force in the disposition of war prisoners.

Vishinsky Silent
Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky left without commenting on the Eden statement. An Iron Curtain source said, however, "it remains to be seen whether the India plan will come before the Political Committee in its major present form or will be subjected to a barrage of amendments other than those proposed by Eden."

Sources close to the India delegation pointed out that the consultations with Peiping prior to introduction of the resolution were strictly within the framework of the plan as it was submitted.

Key Objections
The U. S. spokesman pointed out that Eden "put his finger on the two key objections upon which the United States had based its opposition on the Indian plan."

He said Eden underlined the fact that the India resolution is clearly against the forced repatriation or retention of war prisoners and proposed two basic amendments.

1. The question of the "umpire" in the proposed four-nation repatriation commission should be clarified. Eden said the "umpire" should be made a full member of the commission.

2. The last paragraph of the Indian proposal should call for creation of a special commission to handle war prisoners who do not want to go home. Eden said that either a special commission should be set up or the matter could be handled by the U. N. Korean Reconstruction Agency, which was set up by the U. N. to supervise the reconstruction of Korea after the war.

Witnesses reported here and at Wichita that the bright, white light flashed across the sky in a southwesterly direction and then burst into a number of vari-colored pieces like a sky rocket.

Geologist Speaker At Meeting At NU

The entrapping of petroleum in the earth under hydrodynamic conditions was discussed Thursday night by an outstanding American geologist, Dr. M. King Hubbert, chief consultant in general geology for the Shell Oil Company.

His speech in Morrill Hall on the University of Nebraska campus was under the sponsorship of the university research council, geology department and the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

That means Lincoln will have to vacate the present terminal sooner than expected. Just how much sooner has not yet been determined.

Vacation of the terminal by the city by Jan. 1 would be the ideal situation, said Lt. Col. Frank Crabtree, base commander, but, he added, nobody expects to have the ideal situation.

Extra Cost
If the old July 1 date were followed, said Col. Crabtree, it would cost the Air Force an additional $50,000 to $80,000. It would mean the contractor could not do the work required on the new hangar to be built on the terminal site.

This delay in the hangar work, said the colonel, would make the extra cost. Previously, he explained, it was believed the contractor would not need the old terminal destroyed before July 1.

However, emphasized Col. Crabtree, the Air Force has no intentions of forcing the city to move out if they have no place to go.

Action Next Monday
According to Mayor Victor E. Anderson, plans and specifications for the city's new $182,000 terminal building will be approved by the City Council Monday. It will be some months yet, however, before the building could be ready for use.

The new terminal will be constructed in the southeast corner of the field. It will be for the use of commercial airlines.

In the meantime, the city may vacate the old terminal and move its temporary quarters elsewhere at the base, according to Anderson. One possible location, he said, is the National Guard Manor just north of the existing terminal.

According to Col. Crabtree, there are also other buildings along the flight line which could be used by the city without interference with the Air Force work until the new terminal is completed.

Tennessean Stresses Trend Towards 'Field Training' For School Teachers
The trend toward more "field training" in the education of school administrators was described Thursday evening by Dr. Orin Graf, chairman of the Department of Education Administration at the University of Tennessee.

Speaking at a dinner of the Association of School Administrators at the Student Union, Dr. Graf said that the program of institutions working closely with men in education administration has the following two valuable effects:

"It brings a good deal of reality in the education of administrators because it keeps the problems of the field, and it is the best way to provide an opportunity for administrators on the job to improve their own competence and skills."

He added that such a program gives the education more than just the theoretical side. He de-

Superforts Pound Red Troop Area

South Koreans Still Holding Sniper Ridge

SEOUL (Friday) (INS)—Fifteen American B-29 Superforts roared into North Korea under cover of early morning darkness today and dumped devastating bomb loads on Communist troop, supply and industrial areas.

The big four-engine bombers plastered the Red supply complex at Sinsong, five miles east of Kumuri in western Korea, then flew far to the northwest and struck an ore-processing plant at Cholsan, due south of Sinuiju on the Manchurian border.

Communist troop and supply areas at Chinnampo and Kyompo, southwest of Red Korea's capital of Pyongyang, also took a pounding from the night flying B-29s.

Only one Communist night fighter plane was spotted by Superfort gunners.

On the ground, South Korean troops holding Pinpoint Hill on Sniper Ridge repulsed a Chinese battalion late last night and threw back several smaller Red probes later.

In swirling jet battles Thursday American Sabrejets blasted five Russian built MIGs to the earth and raised the two-year score of destroyed MIGs to above the 500 mark.

Far below jet fighter-bombers destroyed a suspected rocket-launching site and a huge Communist troop area with 25,000 gallons of flaming jellied gasoline.

It was the second day in a row that the F-84 Thunderjets slashed into the danger-zone close to the Yalu River border between Manchuria and Korea.

Air assaults and ground-launched rockets featured the battline fighting Thursday. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force, watched some of the 80 Air Force, Marine and Navy sorties against "artillery valley" between Allied-held Sniper Ridge and the Red bastion on "Papa-San Mountain."

After the air assault the Allied troops launched their greatest rocket assault of the war, pouring 576 rockets into the Red positions in the space of a few seconds. Half of the rockets were fused to burst in the air and spray steel fragments over the Communist positions.

NU Crowns Barbara Adams, Good

A thoroughly pleased crowd estimated at 2,200 Thursday night gave resounding approval to the selection of the Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet at the 1952 Kosmet Klub Revue.

Picked from a group of six University of Nebraska finalists, Miss Barbara J. Adams, pretty North Platte sophomore, representing the Pi Beta Phi sorority, was presented as Nebraska Sweetheart.

Joe Good, Lincoln senior and son of NU Basketball Coach Harry Good, was crowned Prince Kosmet. Good is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Winning Skit
The rousing performance of the Beta Theta Pi, representing "Big Manhattan Bargain," a hilarious takeoff on the Indian's sale of Manhattan Island to the white men for $24, won first prize in judging of the best skit.

It was the second award within a week for the Beta house. Last week the fraternity copped first in the Homecoming display contest. Skitmaster for the winners was Stu Reynolds.

Second prize went to the opening act in the six-skit performance, Sigma Chi. The theme of the riotous "Sheik of Araby" farce dealt with the hectic struggle of the white Riffs in their attempts to recapture their queen from the possessive black Riffs.

Skitmaster for the second-place winners was Ben Leonard.

Delta Tau Delta's show-closing skit, "Guys and No Dolls," was awarded third-place honors. With Tom Beale as Skitmaster, the group lampooned the distressing situation on the NU campus: the "four to one" ratio of men to women.

HST Happy Over Ike's PW Stand

U.S. Foreign Policy, Unified, He Declares

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Truman expressed great pleasure Thursday over Gen. Eisenhower's support of the U. S. stand on the Communist war prisoner issue and results of his Tuesday meeting with the President-elect.

Mr. Truman told his first post-election news conference that his face-to-face discussions with Eisenhower served notice that the nation has a unified policy toward the rest of the world.

The President showed his appreciation for Eisenhower's position against forced repatriation of Red POWs in Korea by putting aside custom and allowing direct quotation of his own remarks.

'Election Over'

He said: "I want you to understand that the election is over and that we are trying to get things in shape for an orderly turnover of government."

The President also told the jam-packed conference:

1. He will confer with Gov. Adlai Stevenson in Washington in early December and will help the defeated Democratic presidential candidate reorganize the party.

2. If Ike wishes, he will be glad to confer with the President-elect again on matters affecting orderly transfer of the government.

3. Sen. Taft (R-O) does not know what he is talking about when he says the budget Mr. Truman will submit in January is too high. It is an honest budget and Congress will find it hard to trim.

'Records Just Stored'

4. Records taken from Gen. MacArthur by the Army belong to the government and it was merely a matter of storage.

5. Rep. Taber (R-NY), slated to be House Appropriations Committee chairman, apparently did not know or mean it when he said the Truman administration might burn "a lot of files" before Jan. 20 when Ike takes office.

6. He has no plans for establishing either an office or a home in Washington and will go back to Independence, Mo., and do nothing but rest for quite a while.

7. He still regards the Korean War as a police action by the United Nations to stop aggression and that GOP challenges of that description are just campaign politics. Mr. Truman said history will decide who was right.

Documentary Film Shown At Farmers Club Meet

A documentary film, "Compass for Agriculture," was shown the Farmers Club Thursday night at the YWCA by Kenneth E. Logan, agricultural statistician for the State-Federal division of agricultural statistics.

The film illustrated how crops and livestock estimates originated, how the need for more extensive estimates developed and how material is prepared. It also outlined how the research has aided both industry and agriculture.

Following the showing, presented after the monthly banquet, Logan answered questions from the audience. Dr. Joseph Alexis presided.

Lincoln Steel Works Is Ruled Guilty Unfair Labor Practice

WASHINGTON (AP)—An NLRB trial examiner Thursday ruled that the Lincoln Steel Works, Lincoln, Neb., was guilty of unfair labor practice in polling its employees on their choice of a collective bargaining representative.

(Earl T. Luff, president of the Lincoln Steel Works, said Thursday night the firm will file an exception to the ruling by the NLRB before Dec. 10. Luff said the company does not believe it violated any law in submitting the question to their employees.)

The charge was brought by the AFL International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America, Local 83.

'No Coercion'

The company had denied unfair labor practices and said there was no coercion, threat or interference involved in the ballot which provided workers who wanted it by a means of indicating, by secret ballot, whether or not the company should consent to an election to determine a bargaining representative.

A hearing was conducted in Lincoln last July 8 by the National Labor Relations Board trial examiner, J. J. Fitzpatrick.

In his report Thursday, he held the company had interfered with rights of its employees guaranteed under National Labor Relations Act.

He recommended the firm cease questioning employees as to their union desires.

Officer Dailey fired the two shots after shouting a "halt" order. Brewer was picked up a few minutes later.

Deputy Douglas County Attorney Joseph Troia told the Associated Press Brewer would be charged with auto theft, and said Brewer had agreed to go directly to District Court on the charge.

Reformatory Superintendent George L. Morris said that officials were going to bring Brewer back to Lincoln Thursday. But Douglas County authorities called to say they wanted to detain the escapee.

Although a possible escape charge looms before Brewer in Lincoln, Morris said he would have to see what is done with him in Omaha.

Both Brewer and Banther were sentenced to the Reformatory from Douglas county in June, 1951, to two to three year terms. Banther's was for forgery; Brewer's for burglary.

Reclamation Bureau, OPD Reach Terms

OMAHA (AP)—The Omaha Public Power District and the Bureau of Reclamation office at Denver have agreed on contract terms for the sale of Missouri River hydroelectric power. It was announced Thursday.

Fay E. Smith, general manager of the OPD, said officials of the district and regional bureau officials at Denver recently worked through what he described as minor changes in the contract proposed last summer by the OPD.

A draft of the contract was made. The final contract now must be signed by the board of directors of OPD and the Bureau of Reclamation's Washington office.

Smith said the officials of the Denver regional office believed Washington headquarters would sign the contract after studying its provisions.

The Omaha explained that the proposed contract does not endanger the OPD's right to serve all customers in its areas. This was a much disputed point in the years of negotiations between the bureau and all Nebraska public power agencies.

If the contract is signed, Smith said a heavy transmission line would be constructed between Sioux City and Omaha. Initial power delivery from Missouri River dams to Omaha would be approximately 75 thousand kilowatts of firm power.

Sertoma Told No Need Continue European Aid

There is no necessity for economic aid to Europe, Max Walker of Omaha told Sertoma Club members Thursday at their meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

Relating his observations during a recent three-month tour of 11 European countries, Walker said that living standards there today are "the best since before the war." He said he sees no reason to continue "pouring money into Europe when they don't need it."

Thanksgiving Feast Cost About Same

That traditional Thanksgiving banquet—turkey with all the trimmings—will probably dent the family purse to the same extent as did the grocery bill for last year's feast.

In the opinion of wholesalers, grocers and butchers, the turkey will probably cost from 69 to 79 cents per pound.

Dr. Josephine Brooks, head of the division of food nutrition at the University of Nebraska, reported that last year a housewife could buy a large turkey at a lower price per pound than was charged for smaller birds (eight-10 pounds).

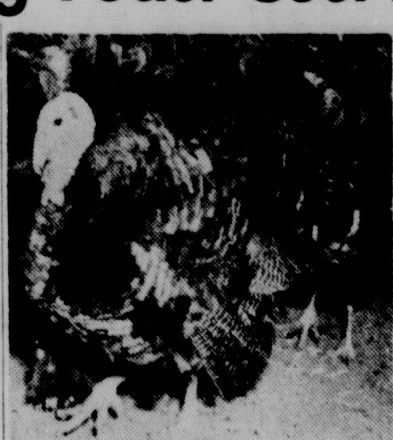

"Smaller families make the difference," Dr. Brooks said. "In grandmother's time the larger bird the better. But today, a 20-pound turkey is impractical for the family of four."

Large or small, however, the supply of turkeys will be plentiful in the Lincoln area, all sources agreed.

University of Nebraska economists pointed out that nationwide there were 135 million pounds of turkey in cold storage Nov. 1. That was the largest stock on record for the date.

Food markets will be "heaped high" with other items such as pork, fruit and nuts, extension department experts say.

They expect farm sales of hogs to slacken a little in December.

PROUD BIRD—This turkey, say the marketers, will cost about the same as a turkey would have last year at Thanksgiving season. (Star Photo.)

But there will still be plenty of pork at reasonable prices.

Lard Supply Good
The supplies of lard, they add, are so large that prices have dropped to about half what they were a year ago.

In Nebraska, carrots and dry baby lima beans are the only vegetables expected to be in generally good supply in December. But indications are for an abundance of oranges, grapefruit and table grapes.

Dr. Brooks decided that unless you know your guests' preferences, it's best to stick to traditional foods for Thanksgiving when preparing the menu.

A traditional Thanksgiving menu—with a few new ideas—is the following:

Shrimp or oyster (the small ones) cocktail
Toasted salad of greens with Roquefort cheese dressing
Roast turkey with dressing
Washed potatoes with au gratin gravy
Broccoli
Cranberry sauce, pickled peaches, two kinds of olives, carrot strips, celery curls, radish roses, cauliflower flowerets, pickles.
Hard rolls
Pumpkin chiffon pie
Coffee

Suggestions
Dr. Brooks uses half corn bread (baked without sugar) and half regular bread for her dressing. "I use lots of chopped celery and onions along with it," she added.

Other favorite "stuffings" for the turkey include oyster or sage dressing. For an extra flavor touch, Dr. Brooks said, the cook can surprise her guests by including chopped hard cooked eggs, chestnuts, or pecans in the dressing.

If your family is not partial to pie, serve fruit, crackers, and cheese with side dishes of raisins and English walnuts for dessert, Dr. Brooks advises.

"There's no law that says you can't have fruit cake or steamed pudding with hard sauce for Thanksgiving dinner—if you want to be different," said Dr. Brooks.

68th Annual Poultry, Egg Show Opens

YORK, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—The tops in poultry, eggs and poultry products went on display here Thursday as the 68th annual Nebraska State Poultry Show opened.

Located in the York City Auditorium, the affair will continue through Sunday with leading judges choosing winning entries from dozens of different breeds of domestic birds. These include not only chickens but ducks, turkeys, geese and meat birds of newly-developed breeds.

Some 1,000 exhibitors in the show represent poultry farms in 13 states. They will be judged by E. G. Trout of Fostoria, O., and G. D. McClaskey of Topeka, Kan.

M. H. Matthiesen of Topeka was named as one of the first winners in early judging. His entries were in the dark Brahma class, a breed not often shown in this state.

Thursday evening judges began the task of inspecting extensive egg entries. FFA and 4-H members Friday will take the spotlight with their entries in junior classes.

The annual meeting of the Nebraska State Poultry Association will be held Saturday morning.

Lincoln's 'Impressive' Financial Record Outlined In Bond History

Lincoln has an impressive financial record, according to a bond history prepared by Finance Director Theo Berg for the sale of $233,000 in special assessment bonds.

The historical data points out that there has never been a default in payment of Lincoln's bonds.

Also, Berg points out that the city operates on a strict cash basis. This operation, according to Berg's figures, has netted the city a cash balance at the end of the 1952 fiscal year of $1,182,871.

About Equal
Receipts from all sources during the past fiscal year totaled $5,132,979 as compared to expenses of $3,950,107. Money spent and received for the city's general operation was about equal with the balance showing up in the form of special funds such as the auditorium.

The report shows the city has retired $991,090 in bonds since 1947. During that time there were issued new bonds totaling $969,725 for special assessments and $150,000 for the main sanitary sewer.

The city now has a total bonded indebtedness of $1,622,625 of which $936,600 represents general obligation bonds.

Brownell As A Buffer

By J. E. LAWRENCE

NEW YORK—In this interim period, one of the toughest jobs associated with the Eisenhower administration falls upon the shoulders of balding Herbert Brownell, a former Nebraskan, son of a pioneer Nebraska family. It is Mr. Brownell's present temporary assignment to sort out the wheat from the chaff. He is charged with handling the mountain of mail created by a flood of applications from job hunters. Apparently every man or woman with an eager gleam in his or her eye believes wholeheartedly in the injunction that it is the early bird who gets the worm. The returns had scarcely been counted before the letters from job hunters started. They have been mounting in volume daily. The handling of that job is not a light one. It is one of the less pleasant phases of a party victory after 20 lean, gaunt years. In the preliminary stages Mr. Brownell is "it."

Out of an approximate 2,500,000 federal employees, actually only about 1 per cent are expendable. The vast majority of federal employees in all branches or agencies of the federal government are covered by civil service. The worst that can happen to these hundreds of thousands of men and women—described as career workers—is that the activity which occupies their energies will be suspended or that they themselves furnish cause for removal. A few weeks ago the pattern for Washington was set by the understandable ambition of government workers to procure key posts. Since early November the current has been moving in the other direction with those in a position to do so seeking civil service jobs. There is no magic under the sun which would satisfy the army of job hunters. There are too many applicants for the too few jobs. And with emphasis upon economy or a reduction in government expenditures, Republican members of Congress are in the position of tumbling upon their own swords.

Among the first on the list, perhaps, are an approximate 1,000 postmasterships, possibly some in Nebraska, although all but the larger post offices are covered by civil service. The State Department is another agency likely to be subjected to many changes. The choice ambassadors' posts and the more important consular representatives abroad naturally will follow protocol in submitting resignations which, of course, will be accepted. During his four-year term President-elect Eisenhower will appoint in the neighborhood of 100 federal judges if retirement and vacancies caused by death follow the pattern of recent years. The late F.D.R. and President Truman each nominated judges at the rate of 25 a year. The administrative office of the U.S. courts revealed that there are 317 federal judgeships now. Of this number 239 are held by Democrats—59 by Republicans—one by a judge whose party affiliation isn't known.

Hope Of Kansas

Before this appears, Gen. Eisenhower may have made announcement of his cabinet selections. Among the names mentioned prominently for the post of Secretary of Agriculture is that of Rep. Clifford Hope of Kansas.

A most competent man, Mr. Hope, with his roots deep in the Midwest. He is serving his 16th term in the House, one of its real veterans, the overwhelming choice of his district in campaign after campaign. If he is not drafted to head up the sprawling Department of Agriculture, then Mr. Hope by virtue of seniority will become chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture. In either role the interests of the farm peoples of the Midwest will be in good hands. Mr. Hope has earned the right to speak for them by an unbroken record of loyalty to agriculture and by an intelligent understanding of the basic problems which confront the farm people.

Curiously Rep. Hope is more interested in getting out of political life than in adding to the burdens it imposes. Before he began his campaign for re-election last fall, he told his constituency it was his last campaign. More than a quarter of a century in the swirling currents of the Washington atmosphere provide all the incentive any man needs for the peace of the American Midlands. His choice for the cabinet post with which his name has been associated would add strength to the Eisenhower cabinet.

Now The Hydrogen Bomb

Now the world's masses apparently were gazing upon the most powerful reason why they should try to find some formula for living peacefully with one another.

A brief three-paragraph announcement by Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has been interpreted to mean that American scientists have won another race in perfecting an awesome hydrogen bomb. Naturally the official statement was guarded, made no direct claim that a super-atomic weapon had been exploded in the recent tests on the Eniwetok atoll in mid-Pacific but contented itself with announcement that tests contributing to hydrogen bomb research had been concluded successfully. Unofficially the news columns reported that the bomb flash equalled "10 suns" and the "whole world seemed on fire."

Bobby Dickers For '53

When wee Bobby Shantz sat down to talk over terms of a 1953 contract with his bosses in Philadelphia, it is not difficult to guess what was going through his mind. Here was a lad who single-handedly put the Philadelphia Athletics in the first division of the American League and who only a few days ago was awarded one of baseball's highest honors, the most valuable player award given by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. He is the first pitcher to win the award in seven years in his league and he did it by compiling a record of 24 victories against only seven losses before injuring his wrist late in September.

Bobby, who is just about the most popular baseball player who ever stepped on a Lincoln diamond, is not what one would call a pauper. But by major league salary standards, he would rank high among those who are underpaid. If Shantz were hurling for the wealthy New York Yankees, for instance, he would be receiving far more money than the comparatively poor Philadelphia management has paid him. This is not to suggest that Shantz would prefer pitching for the Yanks or some other well-padded team, but when it comes to counting the greenbacks, a man is not a man if he does not think about what might have been or could be.

Bobby thinks he is worth $30,000 or $35,000 to his owners. The Athletic management is greatly attracted by a figure considerably less than that—something around $20,000. They will probably settle, as baseball players and owners frequently do, for a figure somewhere between their two preferences.

At that, Bobby would still be giving more service for less money than any other player in a major league uniform. He weighs only 146 pounds "dripping wet," as Star Sports Editor Norris Anderson likes to say, and pound for pound or otherwise he's the best baseball player to come along in many years.

Ike Has Bargaining Power In H-Bomb

WASHINGTON—Last Sunday, the day the hydrogen-bomb explosion was announced, I happened to go to church. I happened to go to church because a television program and a radio broadcast both coming on a Sunday ordinarily make it hard for me to go to church.

But the telecast is being switched to Wednesday, so I surprised Mrs. P. by taking her to church where I listened to Rev. John R. Anschutz preach a sermon on prayer. Knowing that the hydrogen-bomb announcement was due to be made later that day or the next morning, I did quite a bit of thinking about prayer, and the fact that maybe if we had relied more on prayer and the things that go with prayer, we wouldn't be in the predicament of building bomb-shelters and going underground for fear of explosions that could burn up our civilization.

Over at the Alexandria, Va., church where George Washington used to worship, Rev. O. V. T. Chamberlain chose as his closing hymn: "The day thou gavest, Lord, is ended."

That expressed some thoughts of mine too. For the day the Lord gave us could very well be ended if we and the Russians ever get to trading hydrogen-bomb blows across the Arctic.

BOMBS VS. IDEAS

On the other hand, I also figured that bombs never killed an idea, and our greatest natural resource is not plutonium or tritium, but our moral and spiritual strength.

Religion and Communism cannot survive together. But one trouble is that religion has got to mean more than a refuge from ruthless force. It must be a pattern for life, not a ritual for one hour on Sunday.

Another trouble is that men of all faiths and of little faith have been seeking ideas to defeat Communism, when right around the corner the best idea of it is being neglected—the Sermon on the Mount, given us 2,000 years ago as a daily guide for living with each other.

The big trouble, of course, is to get that daily guide adopted not only here, but also behind an Iron Curtain where religion is barred and where we can't even mail a package.

I have been harping for so long that I guess people are tired of hearing me, about the fact that there will always be danger of war—no matter how many H-bombs we build or how many men we draft—as long as we can't speak to the Russian people, can't mingle with them, can't cooperate with them in a free press free radio, free church, free books, and free contact with the outside world.

As long as 12 men in the Kremlin can declare war with no congress, no church, no press, no power of public opinion to put on the brakes, there will always be

Europe Stresses Need For Trade Reciprocity

WASHINGTON—Professional gloomsters abound in Washington these days, ready at the drop of a hat to predict the decline and fall of practically everything.

This doleful chorus is one consequence of the passing from power of a party that had begun to consider it had a permanent lease on the government. Men long in high office can see all sorts of reasons why their successors cannot do the job half as well.

But after due allowance has been made for the dire effects of departing, the grim truth is that Republicans themselves see little reason to be elated at the prospects ahead. The shape of things to come is too dark and uncertain.

The outlook abroad is horrendous enough with the President-elect under immediate pressure to end the Korean War. But at home, too, the forecasters see stormy weather. Specifically, they foresee a business turnaround sometime in 1953 and with it a crisis in government revenue against the background of the huge federal debt.

The last Republican President, Herbert Hoover, had been in office less than a year when the stock market crashed and with it the bubble of installment buying. As sales of durable goods fell off, the pressure grew to protect America's home markets with higher tariffs. In 1930 Congress passed the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act, raising the duty on most things the rest of the world sold to us.

A thousand economists and business experts signed a petition urging Hoover to veto the Smoot-Hawley Bill. They predicted it would add to America's over economic troubles and bring ruin to the structure of world trade. Hoover signed the bill and the tariff hurdles went up. The British Commonwealth countries followed suit and established their own system of preferential trade. In 1933 Franklin Roosevelt sabotaged the London economic conference.

In the years that followed, Cordell Hull patiently and persistently made the case throughout the world for reciprocal trade. The Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act was adopted in June of 1934.

Along with some signs that prosperity here at home is beginning to curl at the edges are distress signals on the trade and tariff front. This coincidence serves to illustrate the relationship between America's vast productive power and the economic well-being of the other nations in the free world. In this and several

Everything From Ulcers To Baby's Measles

By MONA B. PARKER

There were tag ends of the election aftermath still lingering here and there in the state news... Ted Garner of Holdrege viewed it all from an economy point of view. "If we could have bottled up all the hot air the politicians dished out," said he, "we would have been able to heat the courthouse free for the next four years."

Mabel Grimes told about a Rushville youngster, age 4, who ran away that day, walked into the city hall and stated that he'd come to vote. He was given a ballot, marked it up thoroughly, and received his "I-voted" ribbon. Next day, when told Mr. Eisenhower would be our next President, he showed little surprise. "I know it," he declared. "I voted for him!"

George Woodward Jr., of The Douglas County Gazette, decided maybe... "It's not going to be all bad for us Democrats who have been blamed for everything from ulcers to the baby's measles for the last 20 years. You guys are going to get blamed for the lack of rain, for too much snow, for mink coats and for five-percenters."

Being a woman, Mrs. Lester Eastwood devised her own particular method of determining the party affiliation of some of her friends. The day after election, she attended a club meeting. "The ones who were in a God's-in-His-heaven-all's-right-within-the-world mood and wanted to

THE TURTLE

The young man who lives next door to us collects turtles. He says he raises turtles, but after studying the life expectancy tables on turtles, I believe this a gross misuse of the English language. The only thing that lives long enough to raise a turtle is another turtle.

There is no valid objection to collecting turtles as a hobby. After all, some of the more backward races even collect shrunken heads. The latter practice has one distinct advantage over the collection of turtles—the heads don't snap. If they did, there would probably be a lot fewer heathens collecting them.

Turtles, on the other hand, do snap. I have tried to be tolerant and not hold this against Lawrence, the young man next door, but there are times when I would like to hold it against him. Snapping end first! The thing that discourages me is that I can never tell which is the snapping end until it is too late.

Because of this lack of discernment on my part, and because I cannot tell which of Lawrence's turtles are the snapping kind and which are not, I protect my hands with a handkerchief on the occasions when Lawrence hands me a turtle to admire and I am not quick enough to think of an immediate appointment elsewhere.

Hereafter I shall examine the handkerchief more carefully before putting it back into my hip pocket, and if any small snapping turtles are clinging stubbornly to its folds, I shall abandon the handkerchief. It will prevent Lawrence from suspecting me of attempting to purloin his collection.

It will prevent other embarrassments, also. It is amazing how little impression a small snapping turtle makes in your hip pocket as long as he keeps his mind on clinging to a handkerchief, and so remains quiet.

I was seated at the dinner table before I began to realize that there was movement inside my clothing which was not exclusively my own. I fixed an accusing stare on Mrs. F.

"Have you been hanging my trousers on the rose bushes again, where all the aphids are?" I demanded. I also wriggled. It was the wrong thing to do, because it increased the activity in my hip pocket.

Mrs. F. looked injured and said of course not. "Have you got a stomach ache?" she demanded.

"Your placement is very bad," I assured her, and reached down to explore. I was almost as quick as the snapping turtle; he barely got the end of a fingernail, and it didn't hurt.

What did hurt was the hot soup on my stomach, when Mrs. F. pushed the table up to get away. She has alibied since that it was pure reflex, caused by the sudden appearance on the end of my finger of Ambrosia, which is what Lawrence calls the snapper.

I suggested some other names, when I took Ambrosia back, but I do not think Lawrence liked them. He is fond of his turtles.

OLD ADAM; YOUNG EVE
"The woman tempted," Adam said.
"And I did eat."
And that excuse till all are dead
Men will repeat.

A smiling Eve, just seven years old
And fair to see.
Led me where ice cream cones
are sold
And tempted me.

I knew her mother had denied
The sweet she sought.
But I am weak, I stepped inside.
The cone I bought.

Then when her mother shook her head
At such a treat.
"The woman tempted me," I said
"And she did eat."

Editor Don Gillen, in The York Republican: "The little brown and white house at 2010 Nebraska is a little lonely. Marilyn (Mrs. Editor) took off for Colorado to see her parents for a week. That leaves Penny, the pooch, and me to take care of things. If I could only train Penny to do the dishes and make the bed, I'd have a deal."

We could suggest a doggy training program as far as dish-washing is concerned, but bed-making is something else again...

talk election returns must have been the Republicans," she wrote in The Pawnee Republican. "And those who kept a discreet silence and acted as though nothing had happened the day before are down in my book as Democrats."

All of which has nothing to do with the following poem reprinted in The Plainview News, and called "Ballad of the Doleful":

"I want to be a dollar
That everywhere I go
The people who possess me
May see and feel and know
That with me in their pocket
They'll have one hundred percent.
And not in God be trusting
For forty-seven cents!"

No product of a modern day, this was used by William Jennings Bryan as part of his 1896 presidential campaign. "His fears seem to be coming true today," observed The News. "Today's dollar has fallen in buying value to only 53 cents!"

An item preceding Sunday night's rainfall illustrates somewhat how desperately the moisture was needed on Nebraska fields.

Bryce Tracy, who farms near Bradshaw, irrigated a piece of land, hoping to be able to cover the rest next spring. It took 70 hours to irrigate five acres and 18 inches of water to soak the ground thoroughly.

Closer Ties Between School, Community Needed—Henzlik

Need for a more closely knit relationship between the school and its community was stressed by Dean F. E. Henzlik of the University of Nebraska Teachers College in an address to Nebraska school superintendents and principals.

He spoke at the opening session of the fourth annual joint conference of the University's school administration department and the Nebraska Association of School Administrators in Love Memorial Library.

Dean Henzlik said that the major function of the school should be to improve its community through education.

"Unless we can provide community programs of education that will produce free men and women capable of making effective decisions and choices, free society and the American way of life will die out," Dean Henzlik declared.

He called for a program of high school education which serves the large number of students who remain in their own communities and which would encourage them to be strong and active citizens. A poll of many high schools shows that more than half of the pupils have no intention of living in their home communities after graduation, he said.

"That pupils should avail themselves of opportunities elsewhere is one thing," he said, "but that parents and pupils should think and believe that the lone function of the high school is to act as an agency to channel youth and wealth out of the community is not only tragic but, if continued, will undermine our civilization and the American way of life."

Dean Henzlik said that men's freedom and responsibility can best be realized in the processes of community living.

"Good elementary and high school education in a free society is always closely associated with the community culture, the local living pattern and the democratic order we have learned to associate with small communities," he said.

NU Mortar Board Ball Is Cancelled

The annual "turn-about" Mortar Board Ball at the University of Nebraska, where the coeds escort the males, has been cancelled by the sponsoring organization, Mortar Board Society, senior women's honorary.

Because of the impossibility of securing a band for the week end of Dec. 12 and 13, the Mortar Boards voted this week to cancel the annual event for this year.

The six "Eligible Bachelors" who are traditionally announced at the Ball, will still be chosen since the selection process already has begun. They will be presented at a campus function later in the year.

Re-Hearing On Grand Island License Is Set

A re-hearing on the beer license application of Herman Junglauss of Grand Island has been scheduled for Dec. 8 by the State Liquor Commission.

The Grand Island City Council requested the re-hearing.

The commission recently approved a license for Junglauss after the council had denied the application. Representatives of the city appeared at the original Liquor Commission hearing to oppose it.

Commission Chairman Carl Linn replied "no comment" when asked why he thought the City Council opposed granting the license.

Northern Gas Denies Violation Of Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha Thursday denied it violated any power commission order by selling its gas leases and wells to a subsidiary.

Justin Wolf, Northern's attorney, told a Power Commission examiner the company was amazed and surprised at the commission's action calling for an investigation of this sale.

He said Northern acted properly and by selling its wells made the only step it could to assure the public interest through an early start of construction of new gas pipelines and to protect what Northern considers its interests in the gas properties.

Capacity Boost Involved

The situation grew out of Northern's application to increase its daily capacity from 600 to 825 million cubic feet. The commission granted this authority last Oct. 28 on condition that Northern could not, without prior Power Commission approval, sell or transfer its natural gas reserves.

Northern, on Oct. 31, sold its leases and wells to its subsidiary, Northern Natural Gas Producing Co.

The commission directed an investigation into the sale. It also ordered Northern to show cause why the commission should not find that Northern has so violated the order that the expansion certificate is no longer effective and should be revoked.

Wolf contended no gas reserves had been sold. He said that while the wells and leases were sold to the subsidiary, Northern retained the gas in the wells through a purchase contract with the subsidiary.

Nebraskan Hopes She Corrected Misconceptions About America

Mary Ann Grundman of Nebraska City, International Farm Youth Exchange student, who spent the past summer in Austria, feels she has corrected many misconceptions in that country about the United States.

For example: She didn't appear in public wearing a pair of sixguns strapped to a pair of levis. She convinced the Austrians that Americans don't live on bread and butter, and that she could prepare a good tasty meal.

She worked in the fields along with the Austrians, did housework, made sauerkraut and picked grapes, convincing the Austrians that Americans aren't afraid to work with their hands. She also showed them that she could keep up with the crowd while climbing mountains.

Miss Grundman convinced some Austrians that American farmers do most of their own labor—that they work with their hands as well as with machinery.

She convinced some that American life isn't exactly like that portrayed by the movies.

Confined To British Zone—Miss Grundman lived and worked on three farms during her stay in Austria and was able to see much of the country. Her visit, however, was confined mostly to the British zone because of the outbreak of hoof and mouth disease in the American area. She was able to travel a great deal in Italy as well as in Austria, making the trip with members of a youth organization.

The Nebraska City girl said there has been great progress in youth organizations, similar to American 4-H clubs. Completions of projects bring honors which are coveted, although there is an absence of cash prizes such as in the United States.

She said a youth worker who traveled in the United States, picturing 4-H work, contributed much to youth organizations in Austria.

Retail Sales In Nebraska Rise For September

Nebraska retail sales were 5.7 per cent greater in September than in August, the monthly report by the University of Nebraska business research department shows. However, the September sales were slightly less than a year ago that same month.

Autopsy Reveals Wilkinson Death Due To Accident

OMAHA (AP)—An autopsy Thursday afternoon showed that James Wilkinson, 67, Omaha, died of injuries suffered in an auto accident here Wednesday.

Acting Coroner George T. Sullivan said Wilkinson suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries. Sullivan previously had been reluctant to classify Wilkinson as a traffic victim because there were no outward signs of injury.

Wilkinson was a passenger in a car driven by his wife. She and two others in the car were hurt.

Driver of the other vehicle involved, a truck, was Lavern Fallon, Elkhorn, Neb., who was uninjured.

LOUIS J. MICHAELSON SCHUYLER—Funeral services were held here for Louis J. Michaelson, 79, retired cafe owner and baker. Born in Colfax County, he spent his entire lifetime in this vicinity. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and Shriner. Surviving are his wife, Anna; two sons, Robert of Schuyler and L. Emerson of Burbank, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Edgar Holden, III and Mrs. Edith Higgins, both of Hollywood; four grandchildren and five brothers.

Swedish Medal Given Omahan

OMAHA (AP)—In a ceremony following a two-hour multi-course dinner, W. Otto Swanson, Omaha clothier, was made a Commander of the Royal Swedish Order of Vasa.

The presentation was made by Eric Boheman, Swedish Ambassador to the United States. Guests present included Gov. Val Peterson; Congressman-elect Roman Hruska, Omaha, and Dr. Edgar Carlson, president of Gustavus Adolphus College and head of the Folke Bernadotte Foundation.

The medal is given by the Swedish government to men of Swedish descent who have made an outstanding contribution to civic life.

Crosby Returns Home After Brief Vacation

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Governor-elect Robert Crosby came home Thursday after a brief vacation in Denver.

Crosby, accompanied by his wife, Betty, and daughter, Susan, 12, said he planned to get affairs in order here before going to Lincoln Sunday afternoon.

He plans to sit in on state budget hearings next week. Crosby as well as outgoing Gov. Val Peterson will submit a budget to the State Legislature. Crosby takes office Jan. 8.

The North Platte attorney said he had no one in mind at this time to succeed G. H. Rydman of Omaha as a member of the State Liquor Commission.

Rydman submitted his resignation some time ago, but Gov. Peterson said he was holding it and would ask his successor to designate someone to take the job.

The governor-elect said his family would move to Lincoln Jan. 4 or 5.

Compromise Met On Expressway Plans For Omaha

OMAHA (INS)—The City of Omaha and Douglas County Thursday reached a compromise agreement of the payment of their 300-thousand dollar share in the proposed expressway from downtown Omaha to the municipal airport.

The agreement came at the same time that a spokesman for the United States bureau of public roads announced that bids on the two-million dollar superhighway would be opened December 18.

Cost of the expressway will be borne proportionately by the federal government, the state and the city and county.

Creighton Event May Attract Three Former Presidents

OMAHA (AP)—Three former presidents of Creighton University will be among the honored guests at the university's annual Founders' Day dinner here Dec. 4.

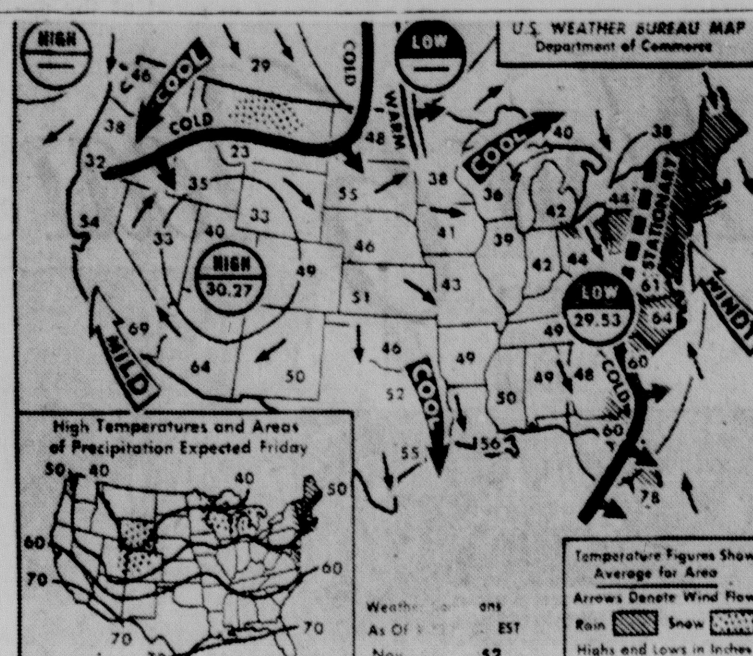

They are Revs. Joseph P. Zuercher, Thomas S. Bowdern, and William H. McCabe.

A fourth, Rev. William J. Grace, was to attend but suffered a broken hip several weeks ago and may not be able to make the trip here from his parish church in Milwaukee, Wis. Father Grace was Creighton president from 1925 to 1928.

Use Of Road Funds Brings Talmage Query

TALMAGE, Neb. (AP)—President Edward F. Botcher of the Tri-County Road and Bridge Improvement Association Thursday appealed to Gov. Val Peterson to see that funds allocated for farm-to-market roads are not "underhandedly" used for the proposed new "O" Street viaduct in Lincoln.

Botcher referred to plans of the Lincoln City Council to declare the right-of-way involved "out of bounds" so Lancaster County can assume responsibility for the project and obtain a 100 per cent grant of federal aid funds to finance construction.

The money would come out of federal aid—secondary funds which have been allocated to Nebraska.

Aitken Explains Plan
In Lincoln, State Engineer Harold Aitken explained there is $11,800,000 in federal aid—secondary funds lying "on the shelf" for Nebraska, because the counties have not come up with projects to use the money.

Of this sum, $2,400,000 will lapse on June 30 and will be lost to Nebraska forever, Aitken continued. The $1,500,000 which would go into the proposed "O" Street viaduct would come out of this $2,400,000 which must be obligated by June 30 if it is not to be lost to Nebraska, he added.

Budget Request Of Normal Board Up 10 Per Cent

Cash Funds Sought Are Also Higher

A budget for the state normal board of $3,903,368 not including the building fund, was submitted to Tax Commissioner Philip Johnson Thursday, subject to approval or correction by the board at its next meeting.

Roughly, the budget is an increase of 10 per cent over the amount appropriated for the present biennium. Present operating budget is $2,768,017 and the amount requested is $3,044,818. This is from tax fund money.

In addition, cash funds requested from fees are estimated at Chadron at $191,950, Kearney $233,000, Peru $195,540, and Wayne $238,500. This is a considerable increase over the budget submitted to the Legislature by the governor two years ago which showed estimates far below what students actually paid.

The estimate for the present biennium was Chadron $104,700, Kearney $178,800, Peru $116,500 and Wayne $162,300. Secretary E. Albin Larson explained that estimates submitted Thursday were based on experience of the past two years.

The building fund levy request of $1,445,000 also results from too low estimates two years ago when it was estimated at $820,000. The board is also asking reappropriation of $26,000 remaining in the post-war building fund for a vocational arts building at Wayne.

The building fund has an unobligated balance of about $400,000 and plans for another building at Kearney are now being drawn.

The report on the building fund showed that since it became effective $2,203,326 has been collected and $1,284,323 expended with a building now under construction at Chadron.

The board is proposing about a 10 per cent increase in the maximum pay for the staffs at the teachers colleges. It would make maximums for presidents $8,500 instead of the present $7,700, deans from $5,800 to $6,600 and division heads from $5,500 to $6,000.

Increases for other employees both instructional staff and others would range from $200 to $500 higher as the maximum paid.

$4,842 Estate Tax

Estate of Edward Peterson Thursday paid $4,842 in estate taxes to the state, Tax Commissioner Philip Johnson reported. The gross estate of the Omaha man was fixed at $479,682 and Douglas County will receive $2,934 in inheritance tax.

2 Are Sentenced For Dawson County Jail Break Attempt

LEXINGTON, Neb. (AP) — District Judge I. J. Nisley has sentenced two men who had pleaded guilty to attempting to break out of the Dawson County jail here.

Gary Lee Jorgensen, 22, Omaha, was given a five-year term. He was serving a 67-day sentence on traffic charges in lieu of $150 in fines.

Raymond Van Zorge, 24, of Elizabeth, N.J., was also sentenced to seven years on a robbery charge, the two terms to run concurrently.

Van Zorge was charged with slugging and robbing a store manager here three years ago. Jorgensen slugged Deputy Sheriff John Rohmert with a soap-filled sock in the jail break attempt. The deputy struggled with the two men until Sheriff Paul Whaley came to his assistance.

Soldiers, Girl Bound Over In Murder Case

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Acting County Judge Edward F. K. Gansen Thursday ordered two soldiers and a 16-year-old LaCrosse girl bound over to circuit court for trial on third degree murder charges. No trial date was set.

County Judge Roy V. Ahlstrom disqualified himself from further participation in the proceedings after writs of prejudice were filed against him. Gansen, attorney and divorce counselor, was appointed to sit in for Thursday's session, a lengthy preliminary hearing for three of the six defendants.

He denied defense motions that separate hearings be held for Pvt. Wayne Kamp, 21, Postville, Ia., Pvt. Thomas Reilly, Detroit, and Delores Stone, 16, La Crosse. The other girl, Delores Vinson, also 16, was not present. The court was told she was ill.

The six are accused of beating Cpl. Frank Walla, 42-year-old Seward, Neb., National Guardsman to death last August to finance a spree. Two accused soldiers already have pleaded guilty.

Business Zoning Request Is Denied By Appeals Board

With numerous objections to the change on file, the Zoning Board of Appeals has denied the application of the Missouri Basin Corp. for a change to local business zoning at 1700 No. Cotner.

In a letter to the Board, the Bethany Christian Church reported its official board recommended denial of the Basin request. It based its objections on the points that the business would not add to the convenience of the public, that there was no demand for the business and that the change would be spot zoning. A petition bearing 173 signatures was also on file in opposition to the change.

Approved was the application of Wayne N. Price for a change in the zoning of a lot at 4145 Adams to operate a concrete products company on the north side of O at 40th.

The Board deferred at the ap-70th.

Wyoming Plan For Vehicle Tax Favored

Parade Of Witnesses Tell Views

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The problem of how to implement the recently passed constitutional amendment aimed at plugging loopholes in the motor vehicle tax laws brought a parade of witnesses to a hearing Thursday by the Committee For the Six Constitutional Amendments.

Many of the witnesses explained that they had "nothing to say and no plan in mind" but at the same time rushed to the microphone to explain their taxation theories and said that organizations they represent would reach decisions at a later date.

Others pointed to some of the effects on governmental subdivisions if certain changes were made and urged that the legislature act slowly and after careful study in making changes.

Wyoming Plan

Sen. Floyd Pohlman, Auburn, chairman of the legislative committee of the Nebraska New Car Dealers association, presented the definite proposal which was adoption of the Wyoming plan which has been in operation for 10 years and collects tax at the time vehicles are licensed.

Pohlman presented William Messenger, Lincoln CPA who had used the Wyoming formula on the number of vehicles in Nebraska. It showed that using the Wyoming rate of $12.54 for passenger cars, $23.97 for trucks, $11.04 for trailers and $3.84 for motorcycles would bring in $9,878,810.

This is short of the approximately $12,000,000 now collected in Nebraska.

Tax Increase

Bringing up the revenue to present Nebraska tax income and using the same ratio as Wyoming, Messenger said, would increase the tax to $12.53 for passenger cars, $34.64 for trucks, $14.01 for trailers and $3.99 for motorcycles.

On the basis of a proportionate increase for each type vehicle above the Wyoming rate, he said, would make the tax $15.23 for passenger cars, $29.12 for trucks, $13.51 for trailers and $4.65 for motorcycles.

Further study showed that because of the difference in assessment between counties where some have high valuations and low levies while others have low valuations and high levies returns to the counties and subdivisions would vary.

Lancaster County

Lancaster county, for example, under the method would collect $43.38 more than at present and $29,626 more under the second method. Dakota county would lose $1,600 under the first and $1,126 under the second.

Lincoln county which is one of the low valuation counties would lose $62,036 by the first plan and $63,278 under the second while Cedar county would increase just over $20,000 under both plans.

Hall county would show a loss of $17,312 under the first plan and $14,452 under the second while Cheyenne county would gain $25,829 under the first and $20,880 under the second plan.

It was suggested that because it is a state tax, counties getting more money than the 1951 base could have it redistributed by the state to counties getting less. Constitutionality of this plan was questioned by Robert Armstrong representing the Nebraska Citizens Council.

Under the Wyoming plan, the license fee is in addition to property taxes, the same as in Nebraska.

Armstrong conceded the Wyoming plan was simple but said that it would "do violence" to the budgets of municipalities and held that a flat rate is undesirable. He pointed out that city levies range up to 56 mills compared with 26 mills in rural areas. He suggested having two or more rates.

The serious problem presented came from E. E. Dinges, city comptroller of Omaha, who pointed out that bond issues and interest rates are based on valuations and that taking the motor vehicle valuations from the total of cities would result in serious financial difficulties. He said motor vehicles represent 15 to 20 percent of the Omaha valuation.

Under questioning by Sen. Earl Lee, chairman of the committee, Dinges said that valuations in Omaha in 1925 and today are approximately the same and that levies are the same, showing a drop in valuations of other property practically the same as the increase added by more and more motor vehicles. He gave the county vehicle valuation as $54,000,000.

Archer L. Burnham, secretary of the Nebraska State Teachers association, which opposed the amendment, opposed any lessening of the tax base. He urged that instead of lowering motor vehicles below actual valuation that the law be enforced and other property be assessed at actual valuation.

Otto G. Ruff, recently appointed superintendent of schools at Scottsbluff, speaking only as an individual, presented what appeared to be the most favored suggestion. He recommended changing the time and method of collecting the taxes but retaining the present method of computing the tax.

It was admitted it would cause less opposition and plug loopholes but would not solve the inequalities facing auto owners as compared with taxes on other forms of property which had been one of the arguments of proponents of the amendment.

The men are N. S. Beaman of Gashland, Mo., and W. L. Beaman, Grand View, Mo. The body was tentatively identified as that of Floyd Beaman by county law enforcement officials Wednesday night.

Hearing Set On City Bus Fare Boost

The State Railway Commission has given official notice of the hearing of Lincoln City Lines to increase bus rates from 10 to 15 cents straight or four tokens for 50 cents.

The bus company discontinued the use of the token system in August of 1951 when the Railway Commission granted a fare increase from four tokens for 35 cents to 10 cents straight. The tokens are now in storage at the company.

Hearing on the new increase will be at 9:30 a.m., Dec. 1. The following rate schedule is proposed by the company:

Adult passengers, 15 cents cash fare or four tokens for 50 cents. Grade and high school students traveling to and from school and home, 10 cents cash fare or 10 tokens for 75 cents.

Children 5 to 12 years inclusive, 10 cents cash fare or 10 tokens for 75 cents.

NU Council Urges Memorial Mall Be Made Parking Lot

The University of Nebraska Student Council has passed a resolution, to be submitted to the Board of Regents, asking for construction of a surfaced parking lot on the area now occupied by Memorial Mall.

Because of the acute parking problem at the University, Council members proposed the plan which would ordinarily accommodate 250 cars, and which would facilitate 500 cars during football games by utilizing lanes. Estimated cost of the project is $25,000.

The mall presently is used for marching drills in spring and fall by the Military Department. The Council was told, however, that the department did not consider this adequate.

The student governing body further suggested that the aesthetic value of the mall be maintained by landscaping in the middle of the area.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Bauer, wore a period frock of chiffon in tints of green and orchid, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and cap sleeves accenting the molded bodice, and full skirt flaring from a snugly shirred waist. Wearing identical frocks shading from maize to amethyst were the bridesmaids, Miss Joyce Grabowski and Miss Patty Bickford. The attendants' heartshaped headresses and long mitts were of frock-toned chiffon, and they carried bouquets of gold mums. Frocked in salmon-toned satin was the flower girl, Miss Sherry Dee Pentice of York.

The bride appeared in a gown of traditional white satin, accented with Chantilly lace. Satin applique in the leaf motif patterned the deep lace yoke, and long sleeves ending in points over the hands completed the satin basque. A wide panel of lace, traced with satin leaves, trimmed the full satin skirt which tapered into a short train, and her lace-edged veil of illusion was held by a coronet of the satin. She carried a white Bible ornamented with a nosegay of white chrysanthemums.

Tact—All Important

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Others will see any faults you have through rose-colored glasses if you always treat them with the one charm that never fails—tact.

It is easy to be tactful in pleasant situations; the words and deeds needed to grace your ways fairly spring to your mind. But how to say "no" tactfully taxes your powers. How to say "no" and make the recipient like it is something many never learn.

Saying "No" Tactfully

Tact is something that increases pleasure or eases pain; sometimes it does both at once. Keeping this in mind helps materially in working out a tactful "no." You can be sure any turn-down you give will be tactful if it always contains these five parts:

1. It must be handled with a courteous sympathy and understanding of the other's viewpoint. 2. The refusal must be definite and clear. 3. It must be expressed with regret. 4. A sufficient, understandable reason must be given. 5. The blow must be softened with a kindly remark and, if possible, a hope of future reversal.

Now let's take those five fundamentals of tactful refusal and see how they might be put into practice. Let's say you are in business and one of your helpers or assistants has asked for the day off to do some Christmas shopping. Here's one way you might answer, incorporating each of the steps noted above:

"I'm sorry, Miss Smith. It's important, I know, to do your shopping before everything gets picked over. But the monthly report is due and I need your help to get it out. I promise, though, that as soon as possible after it is finished, you'll get time for shopping. Will that be all right with you?"

Retaining Good Will

Hardly a single employee would answer with anything but a good-humored "yes" and plunge in to get the report finished as quickly as possible. In any other situation, a mother refusing her child's request or, perhaps, the denial of a favor asked by a friend, the same kind of formula and reasoning would prove effective.

Whenever you must say "no" you run the risk of some loss of affection, good will, faith or respect from the person you are denying. But the risk of any loss approaches the minimum when you sincerely try to reduce the blow with a real, mature desire to prevent hurt and provide solace!

Minerva's Mail

Dear Minerva:

I am writing you for myself and also for several of my friends because we are always having arguments with our mothers about wearing high-heeled shoes and lipstick. I am in the ninth grade and think I am old enough to wear heels but my mother doesn't. She says that we are trying to act older than our ages and that we can't walk in them right so we shouldn't wear heels.

Another argument we all have with our mothers is about lipstick and we might as well get that settled too. Some of my friends get to wear lipstick to parties, but I can't even do that. Please, Minerva, tell us how old you think we should be before we get to wear lipstick and high-heeled shoes and then when and where you think we should wear them. Our mother won't listen to us, but they might listen to you since you are an older lady like they are.

Hank Sauer Named NL's 'Most Valuable' In 1952

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Sluggish Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs was voted most valuable player in the National League Thursday in a photo finish with Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Joe Black of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The long ball won for Hammerin' Hank, whose total of 37 home runs and 121 runs batted in offset his .270 batting average. Despite a disastrous September slump, Sauer's slugging feats were judged more valuable to the Cubs than Roberts' job of winning 28 games for the Phils and Black's brilliant relief work for the pennant-winning Dodgers.

In fact, it was the first time since 1938 that the most valuable players in both leagues

Phillips 66, Kelly-Ryan Teams Slated

... To Play Here Dec. 3

Basketball in the Capital City gets off to a roaring start Dec. 3 when the Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., and Blair's Kelly Ryan invade the University of Nebraska coliseum for an exhibition game between the AAU cage clubs.

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the game was arranged to enable high school players in this area to watch players of this calibre in action. All high school players are being contacted through their coaches and reserve seats at reduced prices are being made available to them.

Among the top stars that will be performing on the coliseum maps for the Oilers will be Milt "Bus" Whitehead and Bob Pierce, the towering all-Big Seven ace that cavorted for Nebraska in 1948, '49 and '50.

Making their debuts with the Oilers this fall are Cumulus Clyde Lovellette, high-scoring member of the University of Kansas Olympic team, All-American Chuck Darling of the University of Iowa and Don Johnson, former ball-handling whiz for Oklahoma A & M.

Coach Irv Peterson of Kelly Ryan said that his roster for the season hasn't been completed as yet, but indicated that the Blair outfit will have several bright prospects in suit this season.

Nats' Griffith, 83, Desires Another Flag

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clark Griffith turned 83 Thursday and kept his sights set on the future. His goal: Another championship for the Washington Senators.

The prospects aren't what you would call bright, but they're a lot better than they were a year ago. The Senators then were generally consigned to a clear finish in the American League, but they wound up fifth, only two games out of third.

"We could have done a lot better," Griffith observed Thursday. "A couple more players and, well, who knows?"

The small talk was sandwiched in between a cascade of birthday wishes and orders from photographers to pose with this or that grandchild.

There were 12 grandchildren in all, and they were all good subjects for the photographers.

The 180 well-wishers included some pretty prominent citizens, people like Chief Justice Fred Vinson, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and Bucky Harris, the Senators' manager.

Overhauling THE NEWS

By WALLY DeBROWN

Harvest festivals and rites go back almost to the time the first caveman scratched up a garden patch with a pointed stick for a plow, but Thanksgiving, D a y is mainly an American custom.

The Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth in 1621 get credit for the first Thanksgiving, and in 1789 George Washington appointed such a day after the adoption of the Constitution. Well, I don't know that the United States deserves to be so much better off than the rest of the world, but we are. So on this Thanksgiving Day let's give thanks for what we have, and for the fact that our ancestors didn't miss the boat.

The R.O.T.C. instructor at Michigan State University wound up his talk on "Safety with Firearms" by accidentally shooting himself in the arm. There's a fellow who knows what he's talking about.

came from teams that did not win the pennant. Bobby Shantz of the Philadelphia A's was named the American's MVP winner last week.

It was a tight fit among the three leaders in the National in both first-place votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association and the point total.

Sauer eked out a 15-point margin, with 225 points to Roberts' 211 and Black's 208. Points were distributed on the basis of 14 for first place, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth.

The committee of writers — three from each league city — split its first place votes among four men. Sauer and Black each had eight, Roberts seven and Duke Snider, Brooklyn's homer-hitting centerfielder, had one. Snider, however, finished way down the line in an eighth-place tie with teammate Peeewe Reese.

Pitchers held three of the first four places in the balloting, with New York's relief ace, Hoyt Wilhelm (15-3), drawing 133 points for fourth.

Stan Musial of St. Louis, three-time winner (1943, '46, '48), was the only other player to top 100 points. Stan drew 127 points for his feat of winning his sixth batting title with a .336 average.

Enos Slaughter, last of the Old Gas House Gang at St. Louis, placed sixth with 92 points on his fine "comeback" season. The Country Boy wound up with a .300 average and 101 runs batted in.

Jackie Robinson, Dodger second baseman who won in 1949, had 31 points for seventh place, a notch ahead of two teammates, Snider and Peeewe Reese, tied for eighth with 29 points.

Roy Campanella, the Brooklyn catcher who won the MVP award last year, finished in a tenth place tie with Red Schoendienst, St. Louis second baseman.

Apparently the boys had a hard time making up their minds on the '52 winner. Two writers did not mention either Sauer or Roberts in the first 10 and three ignored Black. Sauer's point margin came partly on six second place votes, four for Roberts and five for Black.

Hank's Ticked And Surprised

... Daughter Has Priority

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Lanky Hank Sauer was a happy man when he learned Thursday he had been named the most valuable player in the National League for 1952.

"Well," exclaimed the veteran Chicago Cub outfielder, "that is a surprise. That is a surprise. There was a pause in the telephone conversation, and from the background, came the sound of a small wall."

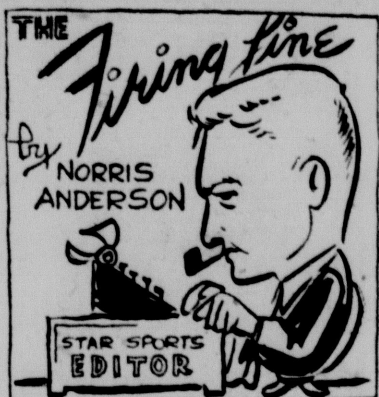

"That's the youngster. Guess she wants something," Hank explained, adding that the youngster was the Sauer's 14-month-old girl.

Back to the subject at hand: "Yes, I'm surprised, but I can tell you this, I'm sure tickled pink. I thought maybe the other guy, Roberts, would win it."

He referred to the runnerup, Robin Roberts, the Philadelphia Phillies' 28-game winning pitcher. Another plaintive wail from the background.

"That's her again," said Hank. "We got another one due in a week. Maybe earlier. Married 11 years and now all of a sudden here they come. Sure is fine."

HERE comes the end of the 1952 football road and, much as we would like, our soothing license, simply will not permit us to crawl far enough out on the crosspiece to predict a victory over Oklahoma.

It seems beyond the realm of any possibility that the Huskers can upend the Sooners. Yet for some reason, you hate to bet against a team that has a 5-1-3 record; yet has not been outplayed.

Oklahoma will win, we believe, through one central medium and that is in Quarterback Eddie Crowder's passing and ball-handling.

Nebraska's defensive line will equal the Sooner defenders. Even if they are right, the Husker offensive forwards would still be a shade below the Oklahoma upfront movers.

Ray Novak and George Cifra, we think, will equal Buck McPhail, the Sooners' ace fullback. Bobby Reynolds and Dennis Korinek should balance Mr. William Vessels, especially if the injured Buddy Leake is unable to perform.

You need passing to win football games these days, as the Huskers discovered in some pain against Missouri, Penn State and Minnesota. That will be the main edge at Norman Saturday.

Oklahoma 21, Nebraska 7—The Huskers to give the Sooners their second toughest ball game next to the Notre Dame upset.

Kansas 20, Missouri 14—One of the real toss-ups of the season. Kansas to win on superior passing and all-round backfield talent.

Iowa State 27, Kansas State 14—On superiority in numbers.

Tutors Open CageSeason At Malcolm

Host Team In Quest Of Second Triumph In Tonight's Contest

Coach Dale Snook flips the switch on his 1952-53 Teachers High cage club at Malcolm tonight when the Tutors go up against Coach Ed Childress' outfit.

Malcolm received its baptism last Friday night, throttling Millard, a perennial power in state Class D circles, 52-49.

Teachers—on paper, at least—appears to have one of the best clubs in recent years. Four members of last year's starting five are back. Last season the Tutors compiled a 13-6 record, opening with a 52-42 win over Malcolm. A high-scoring guard-forward combination sparked Malcolm in its win over the Indians last week. Guard Larry Osterman notched 19 points—including 14 on field goals—while Forward Herb Eilers collected 14.

The brunt of the Tutors' scoring load may rest on the shoulders of Bob (Red) Wilson, diminutive (5-5) guard, who last season was the highest scorer—with 196 points—among the underclassmen back this year.

Other guns in the Teachers attack—which revolves around Jim Thom, 6-6½, junior center—are Sid Seemark, Lefty Mixson and Ray Rickett.

The game is scheduled to get under way at the Malcolm High School gym at 8:30 p.m. Reserves will take to the hardwoods an hour earlier. The probable starters:

TEACHERS		MALCOLM
Player	Pos.	Player
Lefty Hixson 5-11	F	Herb Eilers 6-0
Ray Rickett 6-0	F	Don Runke 5-11
Jim Thom 6-6½	C	Herb Mussman 6-3
Bob Wilson 5-5	G	Larry Osterman 5-8

David earned the title by catching a one-pound carp, while Alice was honored for having caught a four-ounce sun perch. The two junior monarchs are to be presented Coronation Certificates by Governor Val Peterson.

Faulkner Leads 3rd Leg Of Pan-Am Race

MEXICO CITY (INS)—Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., roared into Mexico City Thursday leading his field after the third leg of the $85,000 Pan-American auto race, a gruelling five-day test of 2,092 miles.

Faulkner pushed his 1953 Lincoln from Puebla to Mexico City in 59 minutes, 15 seconds to lead Bob Korf of the Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, and Johnny Mantz of Los Angeles, now running second and third, respectively, in the standard-class division.

In the sports-class division, meanwhile, Giovanni Bracco of Italy, at the wheel of a 1952 Ferrari, covered the third leg of the test in 49 minutes flat and led his fellow-countryman, Luigi Villorosi.

Aggravation Of Back Injury Will Keep Charley Bryant At Home

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

A LAST BIT of misfortune struck the Nebraska football team Thursday night as Coach Bill Glassford hustled his squad through final preparations for Oklahoma.

Guard Charley Bryant, Omaha South sophomore who started against Minnesota, was crossed off the traveling list because of a lame back.

After hurting his back in the Gopher game, Bryant aggravated the injury in a drill this week.

Starting in place of the speedy Bryant, who was among the squad's most-improved performers, will be George Prochaska.

Prochaska, a starter at tackle against Minnesota, has been transferred to the guard corps. Jim Oliver will replace him at tackle.

The Huskers went through a last offense and defense review Thursday in sweat togs. Glassford will put his crew aboard a chartered plane for Oklahoma City Friday noon.

A Friday afternoon workout will be staged in Oklahoma City. The squad will headquarter at the Biltmore Hotel, traveling into Norman (11 miles distance) by chartered bus two hours before game time.

The odds continued to favor

NU Shares In Bowl Ban Blame—White

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Staff Member

A University of Oklahoma regent's remark that he hoped Oklahoma would "beat Nebraska, 100-0," Thursday night gave rise to speculation that the Sooners feel that Nebraska is largely to blame for the Big Seven ruling against bowl games.

Dr. Oscar White, a regent of the University of Oklahoma, made the statement "telecast."

In this area Thursday night, when contacted in Oklahoma City by The Star later in the evening, Dr. White did not lay full blame on the Cornhusker institution for the conference bowl ban.

"I don't believe Nebraska was entirely responsible for the Big Seven ruling," Dr. White said. "There are a number of other schools responsible for bowl ruling."

Further clarifying his statement, Dr. White said:

"I know that Nebraska opposed

Full Menu For Bowl TV Fans

NEW YORK (AP)—The restrictions on college football telecasts don't carry over into the post-season games and so the stay-at-home fans will have their pick of the big bowl attractions.

The Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., and the Orange Bowl at Miami already have completed TV and radio arrangements for their games. The Rose Bowl game will be broadcast and telecast by the National Broadcasting Company while the Orange Bowl game will be aired and televised by Columbia Broadcasting System.

Both the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and the Cotton Bowl at Dallas are making arrangements, which are not yet complete.

The East-West Shrine game at San Francisco Dec. 27 will be broadcast by Mutual and telecast by Dumont. The Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., on the same day will be broadcast over Mutual Network, with no television.

Trucks Inks '53 Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Virgil Trucks, who pitched two no-hit, no-run games for the Detroit Tigers last year, signed his 1953 baseball contract Thursday.

His last year's salary was estimated at $22,000 and it was believed he was signed for approximately the same figure. The Tigers did not announce the terms.

Star Missouri Back Returns

By The Associated Press
COLUMBIA, Mo.—Coach Don Faurot said Thursday night that Bill Roweback, number one University of Missouri halfback, will play against Kansas here Saturday.

He missed last Saturday's game with Oklahoma because of an ankle injury.

Faurot was less certain about three other men, Jim Martin, guard; Charles Phillips, tackle; and Bill Fessler, all of whom were in football clothes for the first time this week.

The Tigers did only light polishing Thursday. They will not practice Friday, but the Jayhawks have scheduled a pre-game workout in Memorial Stadium.

K-State In 'Good Shape'

MANHATTAN, Kas.—The Kansas State Wildcats, working hard to break their Big Seven losing jinx, are in the best shape since the Nebraska game, Coach Bill Meek said Thursday.

He led the Wildcats through a light workout, Kansas State plays Iowa State in the final game of the Big Seven season. Neither team has won a conference game all year.

Virtually the entire squad will be suited up and ready to play Saturday. Only two players—Tackles Ken Frisbie and Earl Meyer—are limping. Both are expected to be in shape for the Iowa State game.

Stuber Expects Toughie

AMES, Ia. (AP)—The Iowa State Cyclones wrapped up preparation Thursday for Saturday's game at Kansas State and their last chance for a Big Seven Conference football victory this year.

"We expect a tough game," said Coach Abe Stuber. "Kansas State definitely will be up since it hasn't beaten Iowa State in eight years."

Eighteen seniors will play their last game for Iowa State Saturday. Four co-captains were named for the game. They are Rollie Arns, Carl Bretschneider, Bill Byrus and Keith Hemingway.

Jack Lindstrom, a reserve end, injured an ankle Wednesday and will miss Saturday's action.

Nat Holman Plans To Return To U.S. To Defend Position

MADRID, Spain (INS)—Nat Holman, Thursday termed as "conduct unbecoming a teacher, disobedience and refusal to cooperate."

Charges by the Board's committee investigating the school's ball fix scandal. The veteran coach said he is "hurrying home to get to the bottom of the affair."

Holman, on sabbatical leave from CCNY where he coached the hoop sport for 34 years, said he plans to return to the United States to fight the accusation and his suspension by City College. He will leave Madrid by plane Monday for Paris enroute to the U. S.

The coach, one of the most famous basketball figures in the nation, said he was "hurt and surprised" by the action of New York's board of higher education.

Binger pleaded innocent to the charge.

Wimbledon Profits Dropped This Year

LONDON (AP)—Profits on the Wimbledon tennis championships, at which the American tennis youngster Maureen Connolly was the star attraction, dropped this year.

The British Lawn Tennis Association, which with the All-England Club stages the two weeks' tournament, disclosed Thursday its half share of the profits was 24,000 pounds ($67,200) compared with 29,000 pounds ($81,200) a year ago.

The lower profit is believed due to general rising costs of running this top tennis tournament.

Plenty Of Beef Is On Tap For Wrestle Ring

There won't be a lack of weight in the ring Tuesday night for the weekly wrestling show.

Heaviest performer on the star-studded card will be Fred Von Schacht, 275-pound German giant making his Capital City debut when he meets Larry Hamilton of Kansas City in the opening bout.

Lightest man on the card is Ronnie Etchison, popular Lincoln wrestling hero, who has an engagement with Tom Zaharias of Denver in the semi-final windup.

For the main event, Promoter Adam Krieger has lined up Pat Fraley, a former Blair, Neb. boy now doing his wrestling on the west coast to meet Hans Schmidt, wrestle villain from Munich, Germany.

Jerry Adam will referee.

Sold Out Sign Is Up For USC-UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The "sell-out" sign was officially posted Thursday for the Southern California-UCLA football game Saturday in Memorial Coliseum and this rival Coast Conference institution could begin counting the proceeds of more than 100,000 tickets which cost $5 apiece.

The battle goes on the air as the "Game of the Week" television offering by the NCAA over the National Broadcasting Company System. This is the first time the game has sold three days ahead of kickoff time.

Coliseum Manager Bill Nicholas says there are 101,518 numbered seats in the stadium.

Drenched Bowie Is Ready Again

BOWIE (AP)—The footing still is squishy on Bowie's new racing strip but the Maryland Racing Commission and the jockeys Thursday gave their go-ahead for the track to start running again Saturday.

Bowie's fall meeting was interrupted in its first day last Monday. Some of the jockeys refused to accept mounts, and there was a spill in the mire as the horses pulled up after the second race. A soaking rain last Saturday turned the track into a quagmire.

Sand, Gravel Freight Rate Hike Approved

The State Railway Commission has approved a freight rate increase on sand and gravel.

The commission's action brings intra-state rates on these commodities in line with inter-state rates previously raised by authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Until now, there had been four post-war rate increases on other commodities, but only two for sand and gravel.

Shippers withdrew their objections to bringing sand and gravel rates in Nebraska into line with interstate rates on those commodities, a commission spokesman said.

New Trial Is Asked In North Platte Suit

The State Supreme Court was asked in a brief filed Thursday to grant a new trial of a suit involving operation of a funeral home at North Platte.

J. Sterling Adams, who filed the appeal, alleged in his petition that Wilson T. Adams agreed not to establish a competing business for ten years.

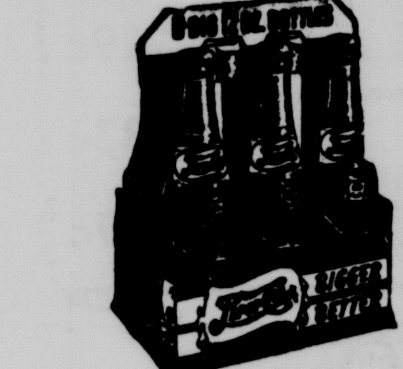

J. Sterling Adams contends that establishment of the Adams-Swanson Funeral Home, with Gladys Adams and Kenneth A. Swanson, as ostensible partners, constituted a violation of the alleged agreement.

It was argued in the court brief that Wilson T. Adams was instrumental in setting up the Adams-Swanson Funeral Home and furnished money and credit in establishing it.

J. Sterling Adams appealed from the District Court's dismissal of the case at the close of the plaintiff's evidence.

Practical Kitchens Give Women Free Time

By MARILYN KIRKEBY
Star Staff Writer

As nearly all women do, Mrs. Olga Mannstaedt of West Berlin, Germany, took a look into the kitchens upon her arrival in the U. S. and pronounced them "wonderful—so practical."

"Your women have so much time for civic affairs because of your wonderful American labor-saving devices," she added. "I think that is one of my finest impressions of your country—your women are so active in organizations."

Mrs. Mannstaedt arrived in Lincoln last Sunday and left Friday for Lexington, Ky. She is one of 13 German women leaders visiting the U. S. under the sponsorship of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor in co-operation with the Department of State.

When Mrs. Mannstaedt speaks of organizations and women's participation in civic affairs, she knows of what she speaks. She is co-editor of a monthly bulletin of the Deutsche Frauenring—an organization which compares to the American Women's Federation. Mrs. Mannstaedt is also general secretary of the Berlin Women's Club.

The Berlin club was responsible for locating and leasing seven apartment buildings in the city and providing housing for 400 single, employed girls. The buildings had formerly been large and expensive living quarters. Mrs. Mannstaedt explained that the club members divided the apartments into one and two-room quarters. The girls share the baths and the kitchens.

"It was not so much to find housing for 400 girls," Mrs. Mannstaedt said. "But to do it all without spending any money—that we thought was quite good," she laughed.

Mrs. Mannstaedt, who worked as an attorney's secretary until his death in 1947, visited the Lancaster County Courthouse Thursday to study American judicial procedures.

The group of German women will be in the U. S. for 55 days and then return to their homes. They will describe their impressions by press and radio interviews and public speeches when they arrive home.

"You know," Mrs. Mannstaedt reminded, "by plane it takes only 20 hours to travel from Frankfurt, Germany, to New York. It is very important that we understand each other now—we're practically next-door neighbors."

GERMAN VISITOR AT COUNTY COURT—Judge Herbert A. Ronin explains the intricacies of American adoption procedure to Mrs. Olga Mannstaedt of West Berlin. Mrs. Mannstaedt, visiting the U. McArtor Is Named Braille Club Head

Melvin McArtor has been elected new president of the Lincoln Braille Club.

Other officers, chosen at the group's monthly meeting at Bethany Community House, are:

Mrs. Helen Sobotka, vice president; Marie Hassell, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Shike, treasurer.

New members of the board of trustees are W. B. Waite, Lauer Ward, Harry Hines and John Sneddon.

Plans for a Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 16, were also made during the meeting.

Sterilization For Incurable Mental Disorder Is Urged

"Mental disorders are increasing so rapidly that we must abandon our hush-hush attitude and also realize that the time is here when we need sterilization of permanently incurable cases," C. L. Clark told Optimist Club members at their luncheon at the Cornhusker Hotel Thursday.

The chairman of the Lancaster County Board of Mental Health further said that mental illness must be regarded in the same manner "as a heart ailment or any other body illness." He pointed to a need for discovering cases in early stages to determine whether they can be corrected.

Explaining that more than half the hospital beds in the country are occupied by people suffering from mental disorder, Clark, who has been on the board for 31 years, said that incurable cases should be sterilized to prevent continuation of large families which would eventually have to be taken care of by society.

New Masonic Class To Elect Friday

The ninety-ninth reunion class of Scottish Rite Masons will elect officers at an organization meeting Friday noon. The 31st and 32nd degrees will be conferred during the day by Lincoln Consistory, Jesse G. Faes, Master of Kadosh.

The reunion will close with the traditional banquet at 6 p.m. Friday at which Raymond C. Cook of Omaha, Grand Custodian of the Grand Masonic Lodge in Nebraska, will be the principal speaker.

Two new members, Paul W. Kroulick and Claude W. Johnston of Lincoln, joined the class Thursday when the philosophical and chivalric degrees were conferred by Lincoln Council of Kadosh, Jack Devoe, commander.

NPA Experts Urge 'Quick' Steel Control Oust

WASHINGTON (INS) — The National Production Authority's top steel producing experts Thursday urged an immediate end to federal controls over steel allocation, except for military needs.

The NPA's steel products advisory committee declared the step would be taken to avert a possible cut in total output of the vital metal and partially rejected a government plan calling for gradual relaxation of controls beginning Jan. 1.

Recommendations of industry spokesmen were made at a meeting called by NPA to plan decontrol, now that steel production has reached a record high and shortages are easing in most areas.

Steel and business executives say that the plan proposed by the advisory committee would result in tremendous expansion of private industry, with increased production of all items requiring steel.

The industry said that the controlled materials plan which governs distribution of steel should be relaxed so that orders for excess capacity may be booked immediately by the producers.

Assistant Defense Production Administrator William C. Trupner has urged that beginning Jan. 1 the industry be permitted to accept orders for steel left over after defense and non-defense manufacturers have placed their allocations with the mills.

The NPA steel industry advisory committee approved this report made by a special steel "task force".

"It is the opinion of the task group that the decontrol program recommended provides a positive safeguard to our national defense and restores the flexibility in the supply-demand relationship so necessary to assure the highest possible production levels of our economy."

It is imperative that this flexibility be achieved at the earliest possible date to insure the demands for steel will have been encouraged and developed."

The advisory committee pointed out that the steel expansion program is now "an accomplished fact" and said that "there can be no sound reason for complete control of all production and distribution in the steel industry."

Defense Mobilizer Fowler will consider the advisory committee's recommendations Monday when he meets with his top level production policy committee.

It is the opinion of the task group that the decontrol program recommended provides a positive safeguard to our national defense and restores the flexibility in the supply-demand relationship so necessary to assure the highest possible production levels of our economy."

"It is imperative that this flexibility be achieved at the earliest possible date to insure the demands for steel will have been encouraged and developed."

The advisory committee pointed out that the steel expansion program is now "an accomplished fact" and said that "there can be no sound reason for complete control of all production and distribution in the steel industry."

Defense Mobilizer Fowler will consider the advisory committee's recommendations Monday when he meets with his top level production policy committee.

It is the opinion of the task group that the decontrol program recommended provides a positive safeguard to our national defense and restores the flexibility in the supply-demand relationship so necessary to assure the highest possible production levels of our economy."
